ROAST FATHER RAGAN-UPLIFT CHILDREN OF KENYA
Please join K of C and DCCW members from Knoxville and Oak Ridge on Friday, February 17, 2012 for a fun filled evening of dinner, musical entertainment, and a celebrity roast of Father Ragan. This event is to benefit the construction of the Children's Community Education and Resource Center being constructed in Father William's home village in Kenya. This project, in the planning and fundraising stage for almost five years now, is under construction and is expected to be completed in the next few weeks. While construction has been paid for, almost entirely from Diocese of Knoxville donations, funds are still needed for the furnishings and educational materials that will be required for the center. Dinner will be served, music will be provided by two groups, Dunavant and Pulse, and Father Ragan will be roasted. The event will be at 7:00pm at the Sacred Heart Cathedral School gymnasium. No admission will be charged, but contributions to this project will be accepted following a brief presentation on the status of this project. Women of Grace

In an act of total self-donation, Jesus gives Himself to me in the Eucharist. I am to surrender myself to Him as well, completely and without reservation.

*Prayer Before Communion
(adapted from St. Thomas Aquinas)*

*Almighty and Eternal God, grant, I beg of You, that I may receive not only the Sacrament of the Body and Blood of our Lord,
but also its full grace and power.
Give me grace, most merciful God,
To receive the body of Your only Son,
In such a manner that I may deserve to be Intimately united with His Mystical Body
And to be numbered among His members. Amen*

"Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men."
Mk 1:14-20

After a lifetime of struggling to catch fish from the Sea of Galilee and building a business with Simon and Andrew, Zebedee surely hoped his sons, James and John, would take over and relieve him of the labor of casting nets into the Sea and the dangers of the life of a fisherman. Then a man comes along and calls his sons to become fishers of men and they drop his nets and leave him. James and John could not have known what awaited them. Their mother apparently thought Jesus would establish an earthly kingdom and asked that her sons sit at his side. But it is Zebedee, with the wisdom that sometimes comes with age, who understood the real implications and challenges of the invitation of Jesus to his sons to become fishers of men; to be men who by what they say and do challenge others to do good and avoid evil; who choose right rather than wrong; who imitate Jesus and accept the consequences. Zebedee must have been pleased with his sons. Are we prepared to be fishers of men to lead others to God by imitating Jesus?

The absence of the words of institution in the Rite is no argument against the universality of this order. It is a rite that developed quite late; the parent liturgy has the words.

But we find much more than this essential nucleus in use in every Church from the first century. The Eucharist was always celebrated at the end of a service of lessons, psalms, prayers, and preaching, which was itself merely a continuation of the service of the synagogue. So we have everywhere this double function; first a synagogue service Christianized, in which the holy books were read, psalms were sung, prayers said by the bishop in the name of all (the people answering "Amen" in Hebrew, as had their Jewish forefathers), and homilies, explanations of what had been read, were made by the bishop or priests, just as they had been made in the synagogues by the learned men and elders (e.g., Luke 4:16-27). This is what was known afterwards as the Liturgy of the Catechumens. This followed the Eucharist, at which only the baptized were present. Two other elements of the service in the earliest time soon disappeared. One was the Love-feast (agape) that came just before the Eucharist; the other was the spiritual exercises, in which people were moved by the Holy Ghost to prophesy, speak in divers tongues, heal the sick by prayer, and so on.

This function — to which 1 Corinthians 14:1-14, — obviously opened the way to disorders; from the second century it gradually disappears. The Eucharistic Agape seems to have disappeared at about the same time. The other two functions remained joined, and still exist in the liturgies of all rites. In them the service crystallized into more or less set forms from the beginning. In the first half the alternation of lessons, psalms, collects, and homilies leaves little room for variety. For obvious reasons a lesson from a Gospel was read last, in the place of honor as the fulfillment of all the others; it was preceded by other readings whose number, order, and arrangement varied considerably...
