In the Gospel today, the disciples decide to leave everything to follow Jesus. We are also called to follow Jesus, who tells us that "whatever you do to the least of mine, you do for me."

Your gift to the poor can bring the love and peace of Jesus to those who live in fear and doubt, loneliness and dread.

Weekly Reflections:

Do you ever look at yourself and wonder if there is any point in even trying to be a really good person much less a "holy" person? It is easy to throw up your hands and admit defeat. But if you stop there you have missed a great blessing. Sure we all have faults and weaknesses and a tendency to backslide; but, what really makes a difference is our faith in god's love and grace. Admitting what we lack helps us humble and reminds us of how much we need God. God will use us (faults included) to do good and in the process we will become the holy people we are called to be. Who do you depend on?

When I called you answered me; you built up strength within me. -Psalm 138:3

The Year of the Priest

The object of religious orders is no other than to remove all obstacles to the fulfillment of our destiny, and to furnish us with all, and the most speedy means to attain it. Duty and pleasure thus become one; and this is paradise, so far as paradise can exist, in the present state of things.

-Servant of God Issac Hecker (1819-1888), founder of the Paulist Fathers

Pastor's Rundown:

We all have the duty to work for peace.
But in order to achieve peace, we should learn from Jesus to be meek and humble of heart. Only humility will lead us to unity, and unity will lead to peace.
Let us help one another draw nearer to Jesus to learn to be humble and joyful.
