In today's Gospel Jesus tells us: "I want you to observe that this poor widow contributed more than all the others who donated to the treasury. They gave from their surplus wealth, but she gave from her want, all that she had to live on."

Ask yourself "Am I only giving from my surplus wealth?" and then put your gift in the Society of St. Vincent de Paul poor box so that those who are suffering will be able to celebrate Thanksgiving.

Weekly Reflections - Parish Secretary-Volume 13, Issue 1

It is not one's position in this world that makes person great or even good. It is in what they do and the spirit in which they do things. We all have gifts and resources-no matter how small they may appear to be-at our disposal. How we choose to use them is the important thing. To those who have been given much, much is required. So too, to those who have been given little, they are not excused from responsibility for using what they have in the service of others. If we use what we have in a spirit of love, it does not matter how small our gift may seem. Using them to show off or to make others indebted diminish our service. Consider what you have to give in service to others and the spirit in which you give.

They gave from their surplus wealth, but she gave from her want.

-Mark 12:44

Pastoral Ponderings...

What a cool experience about 45 of us had tonight (I'm writing this on Monday) we got together to celebrate a mass for All Souls Day, the day we especially remember those who have gone before us in death. The thing about death and the Christian faith is that it is a thing of mixed emotions, we are so sad to see our loved ones leave us but we also celebrate that they are in Heaven and that we will join them someday. We are all especially aware of this mixture of emotions during November, the end of the year when we are mindful of the end of time. So this month we will especially remember those that live beyond this life with the Lord in our masses and in the book of remembrance in the front of the church where any of you are welcome to write the names of someone you know who you would like to be remembered in this special way! This is a great month to be thankful for our lives, as we live now and as we long for in heaven!

God bless and have a great week.

ATTENTION ALL PARISHIONERS!
